THOUSANDS WILDLY SHOUT FOR SULZER

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 .- A conquering here returning from the wars could not have received a greater welcome than that accorded William Sulzer, the deposed governor of New York, when he reached New York from Albany last night at 10:45 o'clock, Beore the ovation was half over he left to make a speaking tour of the sixth assembly district.

A more enthusiastic or a noisier reception would have been almost impos-sible. For many minutes before the one-time governor, now the Progressive candidate for the assembly in the Sixth Manhattan district, made his appearance the vast domed waiting room of the new Grand Central Terminal was filled with shouts of "Hurrah for Sulzer!" and the blasts of tin horns.

And when, after many minutes of tense waiting, William Sulzer, in the familiar black campaign hat and overoat of Oxford Gray, smiling as in th height of his career as governor before Tammany began impeachment proceed-ings came through a secluded door-way, the crowd let loose.

From thousands of throats issued mighty cries. Not a policeman was in sight to curb the onrush of the crowd, which, in its enthusiasm, grew in a second's space to a howling, cheering of the baseball team which won the mob, and the scores of railway guards championship in the Union Printers' and porters were swept aside. The re-taining ropes were thrown down, and Sulzer was surrounded by swarms of
